Fishing Boats at Sea.
A note from Capt. J. W. Munson, chief keeper at point Adams light, reads as follows:
Point Adams, May 29th.
Several fishing boats outside the bar this morning. One boat came ashore near light house right side up, but filled coming through the breakers. Men, net, and fish (about thirty) all safe.
J. W. Munson.
—The Ethel will discharge her inward cargo at Astoria.
—Oranges, the finest ever produced, at Page & Allen.
—Look at the strawberries you can get at Rodgers for ten cents. Immense.

—The Alumni of St. Helens hall, Portland, will hold its annual meeting June 7th.
—The Oregon on her outward voyage on the 18th from this port carried 4,500 cases of salmon and about 500 tons of wheat.

Mr. Wm. Reid sailed from New York for Scotland on Saturday. The reported sale of the Oregonian railway, to anybody, is denied.

A colored man named Jones formerly employed by Grant at the New York office saloon, died at St. Mary's hospital on Saturday.

The first officer of the Ellertank, Mr. John R. Foster, was buried from Grace church on Sunday afternoon. Rev. A. T. Perkins officiating.

The steamer State, on her last voyage from this port, carried from Astoria 6,245 cases of salmon, $1,370 treasure, and 400 tons of wheat.

Decorations Day was generally observed throughout the United States yesterday. In Astoria the flags of the city were displayed at half mast.

Capt. Morris returned from lower California by steamer yesterday. He reports having had a jam up first class time. The family have gone to New York.

The South Bend mill is running on full time turning out about forty thousand feet daily, mostly spruce, as the demand is good for that class of lumber in San Francisco.

Little Birdie Humiston, whose death occurred on the 14th at Ilwaco, was the pet of the village. The stricken parents have the sympathies of many friends in their bereavement.

A disgraceful row occurred on Cass street, at Cases' steps, just at church time on Sunday, in which one of the actors known as Gussy Charley got an eye gored. The other fellow, unknown escaped.

Capt. J. H. D. Gray has been subpoenaed as a witness, and is forced away from his business to attend court in Portland. His affairs here will be in the hands of Mr. McKean during his absence.

Some of the Celestial passengers on board the Besse are getting restive and want to come ashore. That is perfectly natural, even to a Chinaman; but Dr. Tuttle has the nerve to say "no" positively; till it becomes absolutely certain to be safe.

Mr. Gilbertson, of the firm of Mackenzie & Gilbertson, had embarked and was about to depart by the Oregon for San Francisco, but the Ethel hove in sight, laden with a large amount of tin plates for the firm, and his trip to the bay city was deferred.

The Standard says that last week deputy United States Marshal Taylor, of Josephine county, arrested Martin Mackey and his son "on the charge of sending threatening letters through the mails. They will be brought to Portland to answer for the charge before Judge Deady." We should be very well pleased to see a deputy United States marshal put in an appearance at Astoria in the very same matter.

Capt. C. B. Scott's new propeller Fleetwood, on Saturday made the run from her dock in Portland up to Ross Island, and to the mouth of the Willamet and back down in less than an hour and three-quarters. She will be put upon the route between Portland and the Cascades, connecting with the Gold Dust for The Dalles. She is elegantly fitted up for passengers and light freight, and will run fifteen miles an hour. U. B. Scott will be commander, G. Cox purser and Henry Drake engineer.

Description of the Whale.
The whale caught in Bakers bay, now lying on the beach at the oil works below the city, has been the topic of comment for the last few days. To settle the question we sent our reporter to the spot and here is his report: The fish is twenty-eight feet long from tip of nose to end of tail, ten feet in circumference around the body, has two fins just back of gills, two on back, and two legs about six feet from tail about four feet long. The mouth is about four feet wide when open to its full capacity. There are four layers of skin over the gills, each nicely overlapping the other. In our opinion this is a rare fish and from our knowledge and reading must pronounce it a genuine whaler's elephantus. This fish is found mostly near the South-sea islands and how this one should have found its way in these waters is a mystery and probably will remain unsolved.

Report—Bark Ethel.
Left Liverpool November 28, 1880; passed Tuskor on the 23d, when we had a succession of gales from S.E. to S.W., which continued until the 30th, when the wind veered to N.W., moderate. December 1st it again backed round to the southward, and continued to blow (strong at times) from S.E. to W.S.W. until the 14th of January, lat. 12 deg 30 min north, long. 25 deg 05 min west; we then got the N.E. trades, moderate. Crossed the equator January 28th, long. 28 deg 30 min W. Hence to Cape Horn, weather moderate, which we passed March 1st. From then until the 26th we had very heavy weather—lat. 35 deg 40 min south, long. 79 deg 20 min west—hence to the equator, April 25th, which we crossed in 116 deg 25 min west. Got the north-east trades, April 28th, lat. 0 deg 20 min north, strong N.E. to N.W. Lost the trades May 9th, lat. 29 deg 30 min north; hence to the bar strong easterly winds—far as 45 deg north. From then to our arrival at the bar, weather very unsettled. May 27th, all well.

One of the Turner station robbers turned up a few days since in Washington county. At Scholls ferry he sold his revolver for six dollars to Bill Sluck who lives down on the Tualatin, then he broke into Bill's house and stole the revolver he had sold to him, $20 in coin, an overcoat and a shotgun. "Officers have been upon his track" for about three weeks.

The new and elegant Shalwater bay steamer South Bend, Capt. John Brown, makes regular trips to the head of the bay on Tuesdays and Fridays. She is a staunch little craft and makes good speed, and under the management of Capt. John Brown will be decidedly popular with the traveling public.
